

CARE AND CONTROL

Great care is taken to ensure that young people are helped to maintain a positive and calm environment. There is an emphasis on the young person reflecting on the consequences of their actions.

Back on Track Housing Policies and Procedures manual sets out clear guidelines regarding the care and control of young people in our homes, based on the requirements of the Department of Health guidance.

Within Back on Track Housing we aim to control young people through building relationships with them based on trust, created by consistent practice, mutual respect and understanding. We understand that on occasions young people will test the boundaries set by staff and that there will be times when control moves outside the relationship and appropriate reflections may be required to correct behaviour.